

ONE OF MOST CELEBRATED CASES ARISING FROM ASHOKAN DAN SETTLED

New York City is Denied Leave to Appeal to Court of Appeals and Second Commission's Award of $135,914.68 to Du Ponts Stands.

York, a case growing out of the taking of the waters of the Baopus creek by the city of New York for the construction of the Ashokan reservoir, was finally settled Tuesday when the court of appeals denied the application made by the City of New York to the court of appeals for permission to appeal to that court from an order of the appellate division, third department, entered June 22, 1923, denying the application of the city for leave to appeal to the court of appeals. By the denial of the application to appeal to the court of appeals the decision of the appellate division is upheld and thus ends the famous E. I. duPont DeNemours Powder Company case against the City of New York.

This case which has been before the courts since 1913 has finally been settled in favor of the duPont concern. By the decision one of the most interesting cases from a legal point of view and one of the most important and remarkable water cases in the state has been terminated.

On September 9, 1913, the city of New York took from the claimant a part of its real estate, the flow of water there pointed out, an application of the court. The city of New York then filed the application that Judge Hand in a 1914 decision to appoint the new court of appeals, who claimed they had the preemptory right. An appeal was taken to the appellate division of the supreme court and the order was affirmed and the new commission is entered upon their duty to do the claim.

In April the commission having heard the claim, awarded claimant the sum of $16,000 as real estate damage and the sum of $17,292 damages to claimant's established business.

But when G. Van Bitten of the firm of Van Bitten & Co. Co., who appeared at all of the proceedings for the claimant contended that where a second report of a commission had been made it was final and conclusive upon all parties.

The city of New York usually applied for a confirmation of a report of a commission, such application to be made within 10 days, and failure to do so the claimant could make application for confirmation of the report.

Through failure of the city to make the application for confirmation of the report of the commission, Judge Van Bitten made application on the part of the claimant to a special 124, of the laws of 1895, authorized him to acquire the property before or at the time of taking. In November of that year the claimant served its claim upon the Board of Water Supply of New York and underwent proceed under the provisions of the act.

An application for a writ of mandamus to compel the city of New York to have a commission appointed was granted at a special term on

The court's arguments which were made in September of that year modified and confirmed the order for a mandamus unless the city of New York stipulated to proceed before one of the existing commissions. Later in the fall of 1901 claimants made application for the appointment of a commission for a special term of supreme court held before Justice Cochrane in Columbia county and Senator George P. W. Livingston, John D. Schoenmaker and Senham Miller were appointed commissioners.

This commission proceeded to hear the claims of the claimant. Pending the hearing the city and New York moved the court for a writ of mandamus to declare a permanent writ for the removal of Commissioner Miller. This motion was denied and the city of New York appealed from that decision to the appellate division, that court dismissed such appeal.

The commission made a report in favor of the claimant for the sum of $889,000 for decrease in value of real property and $24,600 for the increase in value of business. This report of the commission, however, was divided. The award being the majority, Senator Livingston being the dissenting member of the commission. A minority report, being for $15,600 damage and nothing for the business claim.

The report of the commission was affirmed at special term by Judge Hisswiler. The city of New York then appealed to the appellate division from the order of affirmance. In January, 1902, the appellate division reversed the award and ordered the city to pay the balance of the claim conclusively and that it was the intention of the legislature when this clause was inserted in endeavor in this way to prevent a long drawn out and costly procedure.

From that judgment entered, the city of New York appealed to the appellate division. Notice of appeal was given by the city and Judge Van Etten returned the notice of appeal to the city of New York, settling forth as his reasons that the second award was final and conclusive and that from the second award which had been confirmed no appeal could be taken, that it was unauthorized and contrary to the statute and that if it were so it had not been done in time.

The city of New York then made a motion to have the appellate division set aside the second award and to compel the council in its duty to accept the notice of appeal and to accept the verdict of appeal and the motion was unanimously denied.

When the application was made on behalf of the city for reimbursement of the cost of the first appeal from the city, the city applied to the appellate division to appeal to the appellate division and the application was granted by the appellate division.

In order to cause the first and second action. The city of New York went to the court of appeals and asked for permission to appeal to that court and the application was denied by the court.

After the city has held that report of the first commission was not correct it was confirmed by the court. First report even though it was confirmed at special term of the court. Report of the second commission which was upon the same facts was upheld by the court.

by the special term Judge Hasbrouck in February, 1920, at a special term appointed by Hon. Frank J. LeFever, Dillon B.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

PRE-CONVENTION ROTARY MEETING

The Rotary Club held a lively session at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday, without any program or speeches but with a large amount of business and singing.

About 50 of the members signified their intention of attending the Kiwanis meeting next Friday evening at which a Boy Scout speaker is to be on the program. It was decided to join the State Society for Crippled Children. The president of the club was elected delegate to the International Rotary Convention at St. Louis in June, with A. L. Harder as alternate. The Kingston Rotarians will be represented at the 25th District Conference at the Westchester Biltmore, Rye, N. Y., which opens this evening, by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. W. Davis Hawk and Dr. and Mrs. Mark O. Meara.

BLACK TO SHOW PAIR OF ACES

His New Hudson and Essex Models at the Auto Show Will Be the Dealer's Cri.

Peter A. Black, local distributor for the Hudson Super-six and Essex automobiles, will have on display at the automobile show at the armory March 15, 16 and 17 four cars, two models of the Hudson Super-six and two models of the Essex. His display will be equally divided between open and closed cars, two of each type being shown. The tendency of the industry is toward closed cars and in this line Hudson is keeping pace. Fully 60 per cent of the output of Hudson's factory for 1933 will be closed cars.

The Hudson Super-six sedan which will be shown by Mr. Black has been called "the finest sedan Hudson has ever built" and with its all-aluminum body built by Biddle and Smart, a famous New England body building concern which is devoting its entire plant to the production of Hudson sedan bodies, may easily be classed as one of the finest closed cars at the automobile show, and never has such a fine car been so favorably priced. Hudson by reason of taking the entire output of the factory is able to produce a sedan body with custom built qualities at quantity price. The body of the sedan shown by Mr. Black is the regular body furnished on the Hudson chassis and is a rich dark blue with the chassis parts of black.

The open model of Hudson to be shown is a sport model with a special paint job. The car is a dust-proof gray with white striped body, disc wheels and nickel trimming. The special painting of the sport model sets off the low sweeping lines of this model to perfection. This model of Hudson has been universally accepted as a model for sport cars. Few body changes have been made by Hudson this year, and the same lines and the same dependable chassis is continued. One feature is the peculiar shaping of the dash which gives an unusual amount of leg room in the front compartment, a feature which is thoroughly appreciated by all motorists.

The Essex built by Hudson, is shown in both open and closed model. In this four cylinder type Mr. Black will show an Essex coach. The Essex coach is a distinctive car which combines the comforts and conveniences of the enclosed car with the low price and perfect ability of the open type. The Essex coach shown is the regular five passenger sturdy, comfortable car put out by Hudson without special paint or accessories.

In addition to the Essex coach shown there will be an open model of the Essex touring car. The touring car will be the regular chassis with special painted body. The body is painted a special blue with white stripes, and the wheels are cream with black stripes. The body is set off with trimmings of nickel which harmonize with the entire color scheme.

In exhibiting the Hudson and Essex Mr. Black shows a pair of winners. Both Hudson and Essex have long been known for their long distance endurance records. Hudson holding since 1916, the round trip trans-continental record between New York and San Francisco, and Essex holding the one way record between New York and San Francisco. Thus Hudson and Essex hold all records for the trans-continental journey between New York and San Francisco. In addition to the trans-continental records Hudson and Essex hold a number of other worthwhile records, both at home and in foreign lands.

CLEARWATER TO DISCUSS WITH GOVERNOR PINCHOT

Nationalism and State Rights Before Republican Club.

The National Republican Club of New York city announces that on Saturday afternoon of this week Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Judge Clearwater jointly will discuss the question "Is Nationalism Supplanting State Rights?" Governor Pinchot, as is well known, is a pronounced advocate of a strong Federal government as distinguished from the preservation of the rights of the several states to control, manage their own affairs. Judge Clearwater in his address in the constitutional convention of 1915, before the American Bar Association and the New York State Bar Association, severely criticized the rapid invasion by the federal government of the rights and privilege of the states to manage their local affairs, and the indifference of the citizens of the states to its doing so. He has said it is deplorable that the people are willing to leave to the federal government the control of social, economic and educational undertakings of all sorts, which are by their very nature local; that it is idle for a moment to suppose that federal support to these state activities will be given without federal control, that no denial by congress or federal bureau of an intent to impose federal control ought to deceive the tax payers of the states, that it is the tendency of the federal government to increase bureaucracies, that every federal bureaucratic always is anxious and persistent to extend his authority. Thus it is the judge says, that we have commissions and bureaus clothed with enormous power without adequate responsibility to any but the appointing authority; as many of the powers conferred upon these commissions and bureaus are of a judicial character, their decisions are not reviewable.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

WHAT BOY SCOUTS HAVE DONE

The Boy Scouts of America celebrated the week of the thirteenth anniversary—February 8-15. In its brief history 2,000,000 American boys have been influenced by its program of character building and citizenship training, and have promised to follow the scout oath which is as follows:

- "On my honor I will do my best:
- "1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the scout law;
- "2. To help other people at all times;
- "3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

The present membership of boys and leaders is over one-half a million. The boy scout program in providing wholesome work and play for the boy in his leisure time, has proved a remarkable aid in the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

A large number of universities, colleges, normal schools and theological seminaries have placed the study of scout leadership in their curriculum. Grade schools are becoming interested in placing the study of the program in their work in connection with citizenship training.

The boy scout movement stresses out-of-door life because it believes that to be the most helpful type of citizen, a boy must become a strong and healthy man. Summer camping has been put on an organized basis, through the efforts of the movement. Last summer 200,000 boy scouts went into camp for two weeks or more.

As an aid to the boy in keeping mentally alert, the program offers merit badges for accomplishment in 61 various subjects. Scouts through the merit badge system have wonderful opportunity to choose wisely and thoughtfully their future vocation.

The wholesome activity, splendid courage and skill shown by boy scouts have furnished literature for boys with high and noble themes. The movement also produces a magazine for boys that has set an excellent standard in boy reading.

Many cities and towns have been recipients of services from the boy scouts in such work as campaigns for safety first, clean-up, better health, forest fire prevention, wild-life conservation, bird protection, and similar important public interests. This service is a direct outcome of the training which emphasizes "citizenship through service."

Competent first aid has been given by the scouts in countless individual cases, and in connection with many public disasters, such as the 1918 influenza epidemic, the Pueblo flood, the Knickerbocker theater tragedy. Six hundred and three gold medals have been awarded to boy scouts who have risked their lives to save others.

The scout slogan—"Do a Good Turn Daily"—has become famous throughout the country. With a half million scouts and leaders seeking daily for the opportunity to perform an act of kindness, one readily realizes the tremendous force for community welfare that lies in the boy scout training.

HELPS BOY "COME BACK"

The "come back" of a young Hungarian boy of a Middle-west town, broken down in body from undernourishment and in soul by harsh treatment in his home, to a condition of usefulness and happiness, contains a fine tribute to the boy scouts, for the influence of the scout program and the boy's own help, have been the main factors in accomplishing this result. Early in the summer, Louis, who had left his unhappy home was found by relief authorities living alone, in a dog-out in the side of a hill on the outskirts of the city. The boy scouts then adopted him and taught him scoutcraft. Louis occupied the scout's cabin, keeping it neat and tidy and in perfect repair. He has made exceptional progress, entering into the spirit of the organization so thoroughly that he is considered one of the best members of the troop.

SCOUTS RESCUE MINERS

One of the best "good turns" during the past summer of scouts from Indiana, Pa., was the part they played in a certain five hours' hard work which resulted in the rescue of two miners shut off by a cave-in in a small mine near the scout camp site.

SCOUTS FIND LOST MAN

Middleburg (Pa.) Troop 1 hunted lost man of feeble mind for two days and nights during heavy electric storm. Located him on third day.

BOY SCOUTS PROTECT TOWN

When the town of Coonshock, Ohio, was recently in the grip of an epidemic of a grave disease, local boy scouts were prepared to aid their community. The Rotary and Kiwanis clubs put out printed precautionary measures and the scouts co-operated by delivering one copy of these warnings and a personal message to each home in the town. The population is 12,000; the number of active troops is four; and the distribution was accomplished in 64 minutes.

The wife of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania calls for female prohibition enforcement agents on the ground that "men are so sentimental they would never dare shoot a woman." Are the women bootleggers of Pennsylvania so many and so daring that they need to be shot? Perhaps Mrs. Pinchot fears that the Governor is a bit "sentimental" also, for she seems to think that she ought to be truculent enough for two.

THREE IN A ROW.

Apparently, so far as the Democrats are concerned, the presidential campaign is now on and candidates are being nominated. Nominations will continue under the present procedure until the national convention is held in 1924. Then the delegates will have something to say relative to the nominee. However, just now nominations are in order, and the most recent to have his name presented to the people is Senator-elect Royal S. Copeland. With the entree of Dr. Copeland in the field New York has a trio of pre-convention nominees consisting of William Randolph Hearst, Alfred E. Smith and the Senator-elect.

Adding to the interest of the pre-convention period is the disclosure that not all Democrats in New York look upon Governor Smith as the only man fitted for the presidency, and with three aspirants in the race unity in the ranks of the New York state Democratic organization is lacking.

In the meantime others may enter, and, if the Democrats run true to form, the trio may enlarge into not only a quartet but a sextet, and perhaps a double quartet. Were this to happen it would be natural, because when there is a chance of mixing up things the Democrats can be counted upon to act with one hundred per cent proficiency.

THIS SEEMS INCREDIBLE.

Many an American brought up on our old traditions will rub his eyes and look again to make sure as he reads the announcement that Secretary of Labor Davis, representing the United States Government, is seeking legal grounds to annul Isadora Duncan's American citizenship, giving as his only reason that she "has denounced America." During the past season Miss Duncan's "classic dancing," being no longer a novelty, failed to "draw" satisfactorily and this seems to have put rather a severe strain upon her "artistic temperament." She was quoted as saying in an interview, with some heat, that Americans do not appreciate art and that she would be glad to return with her Russian husband to his country "where they have more freedom." Possibly she said more, some of it as absurd as the quoted words, and some of it more pointed; she may even have said, with reference to certain legislation, that America is no longer a free country. But what of it? Many others have said as much. Secretary Davis can find very critical remarks about the America of today and its tendencies in many a newspaper editorial and in many a book.

Has an American no longer the right to say what he thinks of his country or the dominating forces in possession thereof? Must he muzzle himself and never dare to criticize the public taste, the prevailing tendencies, the Government's policy or the blunders of its officials? If so, what has happened to that part of the Constitution which decrees that "Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press?"

3. Do chimney swifts ever perch on anything?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Can you give a description of common weeds that poison cattle? Space does not allow description, but we would mention poison hemlock, water hemlock, mountain laurel, and the leaves and stems of wild cherry. Also larkspur. Farmers' Bulletin 531, and Bulletin 69 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are devoted to the hemlocks and larkspur, with good pictures. Pamphlet A Manual of Poisonous Plants is a good reference book.

2. Who started the idea of nesting boxes for birds?

We can't say surely, Baron Von Berlepsch of Germany was probably the pioneer in studying real nesting holes. Before his time bird houses were practically toy models of human buildings, not suited to birds. He cut down inhabited holes sawed them up to see how the inside was shaped, and copied the natural model with good results in attracting wild birds. The American Indian is said to have used gourds on poles to attract martins, for the sake of the martin's pug-nacity toward vultures which stole meat and skins hung to dry.

3. Can you refer me to any information on mink farming?

Yes, Dearborn's Fur Farming as a Side Line, Separate 433 from U. S. Department of Agriculture Yearbook 1918, is excellent, gives proper diet for captive minks, etc. Other helpful reading on the general subject of raising fur-bearers is Farmers' Bulletin 795, The Domesticated Silver Fox and Silver Fox Farming in Eastern North America, Department of Agriculture Bulletin 301. These give added instruction about constructing pens and general regulations for rearing wild small animals.

Reliance PANCAKE FLOUR

"When the frost is on the pumpkin;
And the fodder's in the shock."
That's the time to serve Reliance Pancakes for breakfast. These crisp fall mornings seem to tantalize appetite in a way that can only be appeased with a platter of Reliance Pancakes.

A breakfast of these good, old-fashioned cakes flanked by a pot of coffee is much more satisfying to the average mortal than a ten-course affair in a fashionable restaurant.

Everybody loves 'em, especially men and boys. And mother likes them too because it's such an easy matter to fry them. No fuss, no muss—just stir up a batter and put on the griddle.

Order a package of your grocer to-day. Serve them tomorrow morning. Wm. T. Reynolds & Co., Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

HI-Y CLUB MEN SPEAK AND SHOOT

There was no outside speaker at the meeting of the Hi-Y Club Wednesday evening, but several of the members spoke about the work the Hi-Y is doing. McLane, Messinger, Stille and Vogt spoke about their impression of the club from the students point of view, and if their statements are accurate, the Hi-Y is really doing some great work in the school. Mr. Perry paid the respects to the club that the faculty has for it. While the phenomenon is yet unexplained, the club was treated to a great surprise; after the president had announced that the last of the scheduled speakers had said their bit, someone started a cry for Bob Case, and for the first time in his history, "Casey" stood for a public address. His speech was short, but appreciative. He told how one appreciates the joys of school days, with their activities and their athletics, how he misses them after he has left school. The Hi-Y is the one place where the fellows who have graduated can again come together as sons of K. H. S., and for that reason the club means much to him. It is needless to say that his few words were appreciated immensely by the boys. Mr. Hall commented on the work of the local club in comparison with that of other schools. The local organization stands ahead of most of them in attendance and activities. It has a more important bearing upon school life. The good work that is being done in sports and other lines can be traced to influences, of which the Hi-Y is one, though few realize the importance of the work that this organization is doing. The time is coming when the Hi-Y will hold its proper place in the public view as well as in actually. Meanwhile the work must continue, and get the backing of every member.

Following the meeting, the Bible discussion class was held, and after that the basketball games. One game had to be played with four men on a side, as there were not enough from the Arrows on deck to play with the regular number. In this game, the Arrows trimmed the Eagles. In the other fast contest, the Rangers emerged the winner over the Mercury. The Rangers were strengthened by the re-appearance of Clark in the Hi-Y League, but the Mercury were minus the good services of Brown.

Henry G. Brock, 36, a Philadelphia banker and socially prominent, has been released in $35,000 bail, pending trial on the charge that he drove his car, while intoxicated, at a terrific speed past a standing street car, instantly killing Mrs. Ellen O'Donnell, her son, Lee, and Miss Mary Murphy, a friend, who had just alighted from the car. The banker was arrested, beside his blood-stained and partly wrecked car, four blocks from the scene of the triple killing. He denied he had struck the trio, but the hood of his car was shattered, and a fur neckpiece, said to have belonged to one of the women, was found wedged between the mudguard and the radiator. When Brock was arraigned Judge Gordon told his counsel that if the State's charges are true the accused man might be sent to prison for 60 years. So fast was the death car going two of the victims were hurled 100 feet and the third considerably farther.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

GEORGIE GREEN FROG

Little Georgie Green Frog, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Green Frog of Lily Pond, Frog Country, felt that he was not appreciated. It was a very sad feeling, a most sad feeling. Sometimes the tears would come to Georgie's frog eyes and he would blink them away so as not to let the other frogs see that he wanted to cry.

One day, though, one of the frogs croaked at him:

"Whatever in the world, or in the pond, is the matter with you, Georgie? All you do is to mope all day long. You won't join our games, you won't have any fun, and the very sight of you is enough to make others unhappy."

"Ah, googa-room, googa-room," said Georgie, "I am not appreciated."

The other frog went off in disgust. "Georgie," he told the other frogs, "is getting to be so conceited. He thinks he is better than any other creature in the pond."

The other frogs looked in Georgie's direction.

"Too bad," they said, blinking and croaking, "but let us not bother about him. There are many fine bugs at the market this morning and we must hurry and get them before they are all snapped up."

So Georgie was left alone.

"I am really above the creatures in this pond," he gurgled to himself. "That's the whole truth of the matter."

"What is that you say?" asked a voice, and looking around, Georgie Green Frog saw a beautiful fairy.

"I Am Not Appreciated."

She was dressed in pale green and silver and carried a silver wand. She also wore a green and silver crown. It was a most beautiful crown and the green jewels that were in it dazzled in the sunlight.

"Who are you?" asked Georgie.

"I am the Pond Fairy," said the fairy.

"But I've never seen you before," said Georgie. And then a bright thought came to him.

Of course he had never seen her before! She would not bother with the ordinary green frogs of the pond, but she had noticed him. At last he would be appreciated. At last some one had already appreciated him.

"I see you agree with me," Georgie said, as he made room for the fairy on the pond lily leaf upon which he was sitting. "I've been thinking for some time that I was above the creatures of this pond. I'm really out of place here. The others—well, you know—they're all right enough in their way. But the truth of the whole matter is they're common, googa-room, ordinary, googa-room."

"That's why you've come to call on me, I'm sure. You can see I'm out of the ordinary."

"Yes, I can see that," said Pond Fairy.

Georgie Green Frog gave a queer little throaty laugh of delight.

"As a matter of fact," continued Pond Fairy, "I've come to ask you if you'd like to leave Lily Pond and move to some other place."

"Although my name is Pond Fairy, because I visit ponds from time to time, my home is not here."

Georgie opened his eyes very wide and gurgled delightedly.

"I knew it! I knew what would come to me," he said to himself. "I knew I should have adventures above all the other frogs in the pond. Ah, I was wise not to mix too much in their society."

"Wise, indeed. Ah yes, Georgie Green Frog is very sensible."

"Would you like to visit away from here?" asked Pond Fairy.

"Oh, pardon me, pardon me," said Georgie Green Frog. "I've almost forgotten my manners. It's all because I've been living with such ordinary frogs."

"I will come with much pleasure. Much pleasure, indeed."

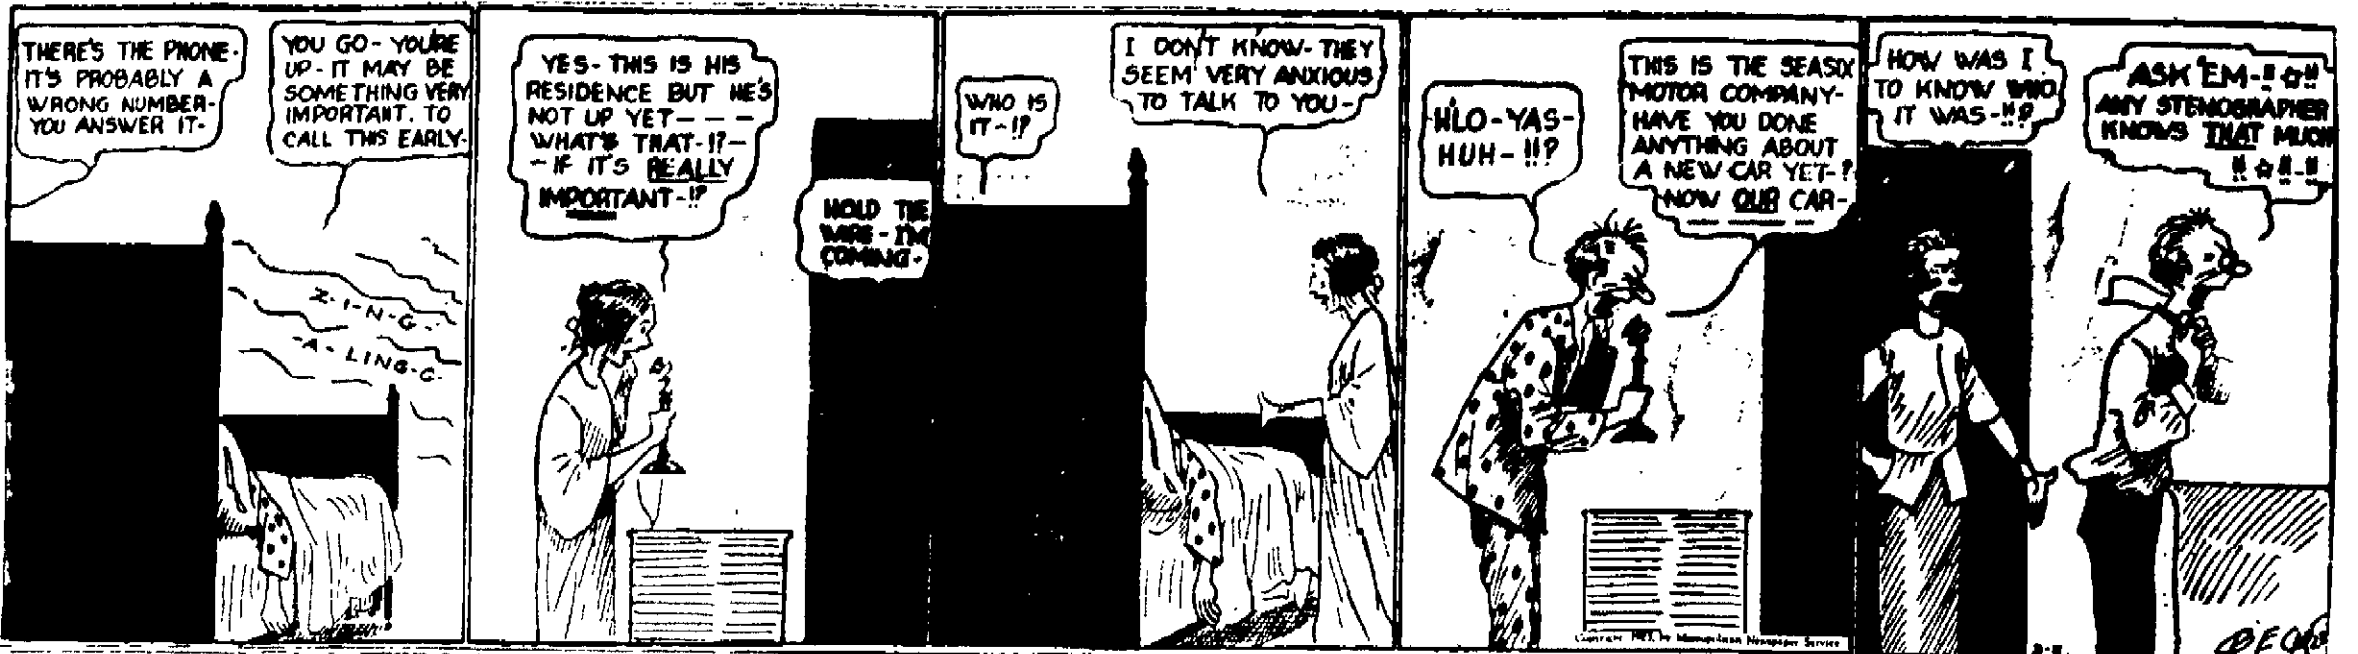

And the Pond Fairy smiled to herself. For she knew that at heart Georgie was not a bad sort though he was being quite impossibly conceited and snobbish at present. But she had half an idea that he would find that out for himself—and he did!

And because a regular frog!

CRAIGEN BROADCASTING APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

Gets Stacks of Mail, Some From Kingston, Where He Will Lecture.

Newark, N. J., March 6, 1923.

Editor, The Freeman:

A few lines to say that my lectures on the subject of applied psychology, as given from the wireless station WOR at Newark, N. J., are proving a big help and success, as expressed in the thousands of letters received daily from all over the country, and many from Europe.

It requires the work of several girls to sort the mail from my big radio audience.

It might be interesting to the folks in Kingston to know that one letter came from close to nine thousand miles away, saying and proving that our station was heard there.

I want to thank all the Kingstonians in particular for the many letters from home, and will say that the lectures will be continued for some time.

I am intending to give a lecture in Kingston for the benefit of the Kingston, and also try to stimulate interest along the lines of applied psychology. The expenses will be taken care of by myself, and there is no doubt but what Kingston will respond to the cause of this intensely interesting new science.

Hoping to hear from many more folks up there,

I am sincerely yours, DR. JOSEPH CRAIGEN.

CHURCHES WITH MOVIES SHOULD WATCH INSURANCE

Lodges, churches, Sunday schools contemplating the installation of moving picture machines to be operated by amateur operators should be extremely careful to escape the fate of three Philadelphia churches which were burned to the ground as the result of explosions resulting from unskilled operation of the apparatus. It turned out that the installation of a moving picture machine violated the insurance policies upon these churches with the result that no insurance could be or was recovered.

ALLAHEN.

Allaben, March 7.—Mr. and Mrs. William Blakeley of Arkville, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blish and daughter Evelyn, of Binghamton and Mrs. James Stanbridge of Grand Gorge, were all guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Misner the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blakeley, Mrs. James Stanbridge and Mrs. Daniel Misner were guests of Mrs. Mary Blakeley at Risley's last Sunday.

The Allaben ladies of the Shandaken M. E. Church, who are sewing for the fair, held their meeting last Wednesday at Mrs. Peter Winne's.

Mrs. Winne and Mrs. Alanzo Winne of Ashokan served a dainty lunch at the close of the meeting.

Myron Thompson, Benjamin Gulnic, George Hughes and Joseph Yerry all enjoyed a trip to Kingston the week-end.

Robert Gausman was a week-end guest of his parents' Mr. and Mrs. R. Gausman.

Lewen Searle of the board of water supply office, spent the week-end at his home in Kingston.

The ladies of the Allaben and Phoenixia Catholic Church will hold a euchre party St. Patrick's evening in the hall at Phoenixia.

The moving pictures in the community house were well attended last Thursday evening, and the picture was good. The music by Mrs. R. B. Van Keuren was greatly appreciated.

George H. Gulnick, Sr. has been sick for a week with a bad cold.

The Misses Josephine and Mary Merante were in New York the week-end, attending a party given by their brothers, Charles and Joseph Merante.

Rumor says the wedding bells will soon ring in Allaben.

TABASCO HEIGHTS.

Tabasco Heights, March 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wynkoop spent Saturday night and Sunday with friends at Kerbonkson and attended the surprise party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Decker at the Central House. They reported a grand time playing cards and dominoes and other games, also dancing until 12 o'clock, when they were all invited into the large dining room, where supper was served by Mrs. Decker.

They All Agree

A study of the prognostications of various statistical and economic bureaus on business conditions for 1923 brings out vividly the OPTIMISM which is so prevalent in the business world today. All these students of economic trends agree that as a result of the "SOUNDNESS OF BASIC CONDITIONS AND THE STRENGTH OF THE FAVORABLE ECONOMIC FORCES," business will continue to grow in volume at least during the first half of the year.

The Harvard University Committee on Economic Research sums up the situation by the prediction of "further increase of wholesale commodity prices and continued expansion of business activity during the first half of 1923, with a strong probability that the upward swing will continue during the second half of the year."

Country's Yearly Loss From Fire Would Pay Teachers or Run Mails

ANNUAL FIRE LOSS

AMERICA burns up every year one-fourth of what it adds in value through hard work, according to the latest statistics on the nation's fire loss.

The greatest cause of fire is carelessness. For every man, woman and child in the country, $5 in property is burned. In Europe the loss is 45 cents for every man, woman and child. In addition every person in the United States pays $5 a year for fire departments and other means of fire prevention, while Europe pays vastly less. America, with seven and a half per cent of the population of the civilized world, pays more than 50 per cent of the fire loss.

The loss in America annually would build a 16-foot concrete road clear across this country, Asia and Europe. It would build the Panama Canal every two years. It would pay the salary of every teacher and leave something for an increase in salaries. It would more than pay the operating expenses of the postal system. In five years it would build $5,000 homes for more than the combined population of the states of Connecticut, Nevada and Wyoming.

This loss is in physical property, replaceable property. The loss in records, most of them not insurable or replaceable, has been estimated to be as great.

Four Aged Men Grab Rusty Rifle and Leave Almshouse to Answer Call of Wild.

GOT REAL BRAINSTORM

Thriller Dealing With Exploits of Royal Northwest Mounted Police Causes Sensation in Old Men's Home.

New York.—The only way to deprive the inevitable of its unexpectedness is to stop confusing the improbable with the obvious.

Take the story that broke out in the Old Men's home in Passaic, N. J. Thursday night they tacked a sheet upon the wall at the far end of the dining room, turned off the lights and put on a five-reel thriller, dealing with exploits in the life of the Royal Northwest Mounted—the lads who sleep with one eye open.

What happened? Nothing much happened except the inevitable.

The next morning when the officials called the roll for prunes and oatmeal four of the old men were missing. They had grabbed an old, rusty rifle and slipped away in the night, headed in the general direction of the Arctic Circle, to track law breakers through the frozen North.

Never Seen One Before.

It must be remembered in this connection that the four old men had never before seen a moving picture. It doesn't do to say they were thrilled. It was more than a thrill. They were electrified! They got a brainstorm.

During the parts of the picture where the hero grabbed the daven-haired heroine to his seakskin breast and told her it was "She and she only, and that in this world of women, beautiful and good, she was the queen of them all—the Lady Paramount," the old men fell so hard for the picture they nearly fell off their seats.

After it was all over the excitement in the dining room was intense. Several of the old chaps hobbled over to the tablecloth on the wall, peered behind it, tapped the wall and tottered away shaking their heads dubiously.

Darned if it wasn't uncanny.

Call of the Wild.

But the four runaways didn't worry about the mechanism of the thing. Mechanism wasn't what was seething in their brains. It was the call of the wild—the voice of the mountains and the open spaces—the eternal hills and the hush of the—you know, all that stuff.

What's the difference between eight and eighty? Nothing. Put a zero after eight and you have eighty.

And, whether you look out on life at eight from the polished panes of a nursery or at eighty from the murky windows of an almshouse, it's only life that you're looking at, after all.

Men are only old when they work at things that children play at. And after they've worked at them for a long time they see how foolish they are and they go back to play.

It seems to be God's way of quieting them before He puts them to sleep.

Get Dies at Age of Twenty-Four. Billings, Mont.—Thomas Patriarch, the oldest cat in the United States, and in the world, is dead here, aged twenty-four years and three months, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Sample. Owing to the loss of his teeth he had ceased to bother mice and lived on condensed milk during his final year. Thomas' claim to being the oldest cat in the country was checked out a year ago, when a twenty-year-old kitten at Missoula laid claim to the age championship.

MRS. SALUDES TRIES SUICIDE

Swallows Poison, Tries To Cut Throat and Dash Brains Out But Is Recovered—Sentence For Murder March 14.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 8.—Recovering from her experience yesterday evening, when she three times tried to kill herself after hearing the verdict of a jury convicting her of murder in the second degree, Mrs. Paullette Saludes sits in her Tombs cell today awaiting March 14, the date set by the court for her sentence for the murder of Oscar M. Martelliere.

Mrs. Saludes spent a comparatively comfortable night, according to Tombs physicians and her life is not in danger as a result of the mixture of rouge and brass polish which she swallowed on a back stairway leading to the prison pen in the criminal courts building, after hearing the jury's verdict.

While some officials doubt whether Mrs. Saludes really intended to kill herself, prison authorities today are trying to discover where the convicted woman got the brass polish which she put in her rouge.

No such polish is used in the Tombs, they declare.

After swallowing the poison, Mrs. Saludes, struggling madly with a matron and two deputy sheriffs, succeeded in getting her hands loose and slashing at her throat with the sharp edges of her brass vanity case. Dr. Perry M. Lichtenstein, Tombs physician, was summoned. He ordered her taken across "the bridge of sighs" which connects the prison with the criminal courts building.

As they neared the prison, Mrs. Saludes screamed and fought frantically in an attempt to dash her head against the stone walls. In the Tombs, Dr. Lichtenstein and an ambulance surgeon worked 30 minutes over the prisoner and succeeded in removing the poison from her body.

She was then tied to her bed where attendants watched her all night.

The jury's verdict renders Mrs. Saludes liable to a sentence of from 20 years to life imprisonment.

After Exposure Take Hills

WHEN colds are going the rounds and la grippe and pneumonia are prevalent, you must exercise precaution.

You can't escape exposure. But you can strengthen your resistance by taking Hill's Cascara Quinine Tablets regularly.

Colds spread in the sneezing crowds that pack cars, streets, shops and theaters.

Play safe and keep fit. Take Hill's before and after exposure.

A GREAT INTRODUCTORY SALE OF

Queen Make

HOUSE FROCKS!

An event of double importance introducing the famous "Queen Make" house frocks to the women of Kingston and vicinity, in an unusual varied selection of new models at extremely special prices.

"Queen Make" house frocks represent but one standard, and that the best. You will notice how much better these dresses are than the ordinary kinds, in the choice materials that are used, in the full-cut models, rightly proportioned. Every one new—every one different.

No. 840—Collar of organdy, insets of matching chambray, pleated ruffles on front, collar and sleeves edged with matching color form the distinctive trimming for this charming model made of conventional check gingham; material tub and sun proof, may be had in black, green and blue, sizes 36 to 46 at $4.95.

No. 819—The combination of solid color Pickwick linens with matching checked gingham produces an unusually attractive all-over dress. The fancy pockets, wide sash and bias trimming of the same materials complete this charming and useful dress. Sizes 16 to 20 and 36 to 46 at $3.95.

No. 841—The hand embroidered stitching on the collar, cuffs and side panels, which are of white poplin makes this model attractive to the critical woman. The dress is of medium check fant color gingham. Wide sash. The colors are lavender, blue and green. Sizes 36 to 46 at $4.95.

No. 817—This practical dress is made of small check gingham. The collar, cuffs and lapels on the pockets are white trimmed with bias bands of the same material as the dress. It comes in lavender, brown, blue and black. Sizes 36 to 46 at $2.95; extra sizes 48 to 52 at $3.50.

No. 838—A dress for the critical woman; made of fine quality fast color small check gingham. There is an attractive trimming of beading around the skirt, on the waist and sleeves. The colors are green, lavender, navy and oopen. Sizes 16 to 20 and 36 to 46 at $7.95.

No. 846—Bands of matching chambray on the front and sleeves trim this charming dress made of medium check gingham. The collar is white trimmed with braid; it is made in blue, black, lavender and brown. Sizes 36 to 46 at $3.95; extra sizes 48 to 52 at $4.50.

No. 802—Drawn organdy is used in elaborately trimming this attractive model which is made of sun and tub proof gingham in a large check. The organdy straps and collar and cuffs are finished with bias bands of the same material. May be had in lavender, green, brown and blue. Sizes 36 to 46, $6.95.

No. 820—An unusually stylish effect is produced by the use of white poplin for the collar, cuffs, inset in waist and panels on the side set off by fagotting. The gingham is fast color. The colors are blue, red, green, black and brown. Sizes 36 to 46 at $5.95; extra sizes 48 to 52 at $6.75.

P. M. S. CALLA BASEBALL CANDIDATES; LOCALS BUSY

Poughkeepsie High School baseball candidates will report for practice the first time this year on Friday. Coach Kallach will have a hard job getting a team together this year as he only has one letter man left in school, Poughkeepsie opens the season with Kingston at Poughkeepsie.

Coach Perry of the local high school squad made his first cut in the squad last night. The men are now engaged in setting their muscles limbered up in the gym every night and by the time spring weather comes around they should be in good shape. Although practically a whole new team has to be built up the outlook is bright for another championship team.

Tree Grows Inside House.
A graceful elm tree shades a dwelling house near the Maine coast thoroughly, because it grows through its roof. It also grows through two floors. It was cut down as a very small tree when the house was to be built, but later was found to be pushing up the floor. Its persistent desire for growth was humored, and now it is a stately tree, with unusual surroundings.

ALBANY ADDS ANOTHER WIN

Schenectady, Schenectady 25 to 20 and Kingston 25 to 10. Monday's Game Win Tell.

Albany defeated Schenectady, 35 to 20, in a New York State Basketball league contest before the smallest crowd of the season in the Washington, avenue armory Wednesday night at Albany. The Senators led all the way and at half time were on the long end of an 18 to 6 score. Russell was high man for Albany and McDermott for Schenectady.

Albany's victory brings them nearer the Kingston team and means furthermore that on the outcome of the game between these two teams, on Monday night, hinges the championship of the second half of the league race.

FAST GAMES ON ST. MARY'S COURT
St. Mary's Schoolboys Quintet Beats St. Peter's and Junior Holy Name Squad Won From Young Judges.

Wednesday's games on St. Mary's court brought out some remarkable basketball playing by the teams of St. Mary's and their opponents. In the afternoon, the schoolboys team defeated the St. Peter's team by a 20 to 10 count. The game was very brilliant from all angles of the science of the court game. David Long was the big scorer of the game caging six points on the playground, three of which were from long range, near the center of the court. Scully, playing the other forward position for the St. Mary's team, played some clever game and was effective in his unusual floor work and passing. W. Rice and Connolly were the best point getters for St. Peter's and played good floor games. St. Mary's School team have beaten all of its opponents playing on its home court.

Holy Name Beat Judson.
In the evening, the St. Mary's Holy Name Juniors defeated the Young Judges team in one of the fastest games of the season. The game was nip and tuck up until the last second of playing. At the end of the game the score was tied 11 and 11, and timekeeper, John Bott had to watch his ingress for an extra period of five minutes.

The game started off with an unusual amount of speed and the speed was intact throughout the evening. During the first half period the Young Judges team by some remarkable passing neared the basket and outscored the Holy Name squad by one point score 6 to 5. During the last half the Holy Name team did the same stunt and the teams were deadlocked. In the period of five minutes the Holy Name team scored a field and pulled out a winner. Van Bramer was the referee and was kept very busy during the evening.

The Young Judges quintet put up a wonderful defense and played a hard game. Myer and Wolff were potent in holding down Murphy and Cashin from rolling up big scores. For the St. Mary's team Donald Murphy did the best work, Boyle was next with his good floor work.

Newer Form of Iron Help Give Renewed Vim and Energy

Actual blood tests show that a tremendous number of people lack iron in their blood and that they are ill for no other reason than lack of iron. Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical weakling, but it also makes him a nervous, irritable, and listless being. It is a real enemy of life. If you are weak, nervous and run-down, you owe it to yourself to try this new form of iron, known as Nuxated Iron Began today. Nuxated Iron is the best iron preparation that is well known to physicians and druggists everywhere.
